

International Dairy Roundtable

The growing impact of sanitary and phytosanitary standards on international food trade, and the need for countries to agree on and follow sound international standards is widely recognized. IPC has commissioned a survey of key players in the dairy sector to more precisely ascertain the economic impact of sanitary measures in a specific sector, with a focus on import specifications that go beyond internationally agreed food safety and animal health standards.

Please join us for a presentation of the survey results and a discussion of its findings among industry representatives, SPS delegates, the World Organization for Animal Health, and Codex officials.

Coffee and lunch will be served.

Please RSVP online at www.agritrade.org/events

WHERE: GENEVA, SWITZERLAND
WTO COUNCIL ROOM

WHEN: FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 2007
10:00-13:00

Survey Author: Thom Achterbosch
Agricultural Economics Research Institute (LEI),
The Hague

IPC thanks the Dutch government for its generous support of the survey. IPC also thanks Fonterra and IDFA for making this Roundtable possible.